JOB SEARCH PLANNER

Organize goals, applications and follow-up actions

Practical guidance • Clear steps • Honest representation

A reusable planning document for keeping a job search organized. Store completed copies privately because they may contain personal and application details.

1. Define the target

- Target roles: _____
- Preferred locations or work arrangement: _____
- Priority skills and qualifications: _____
- Constraints or preferences: _____

2. Build a weekly routine

- Set realistic time for searching, tailoring applications, practising skills and following up.
- Use verified employer career pages and reputable job platforms.
- Reserve time to review progress and update your approach.

3. Track each application

- Record employer, role, source URL, date applied, current status and next action.
- Save the job description where permitted and note the version of the resume used.
- Do not store passwords, identity documents or unnecessary sensitive data in the tracker.

4. Review and improve

- Which applications were the best match? _____
- Which skills or materials need improvement? _____
- What will I do next week? _____

Key takeaways

- Focus on suitable roles, not application volume alone.
- Use a secure tracker and verify employers.
- Review progress weekly and adjust your plan.
