JOB OFFER EVALUATION CHECKLIST

Review the written offer before making a decision

Practical guidance • Clear steps • Honest representation

Use this checklist to compare offers and clarify unanswered questions. Employment terms and legal requirements depend on the contract and jurisdiction.

Role and expectations

- The job title, responsibilities, reporting line and work location are clear.
- Working hours, schedule, travel and remote/hybrid arrangements are documented.
- Start date, probation terms and performance expectations are understood.

Pay and benefits

- Salary components, pay frequency, deductions and variable pay are explained in writing.
- Benefits, leave, insurance, retirement or other applicable provisions are documented.
- Any bonus, incentive or reimbursement conditions are understood.

Contract and policies

- The employing legal entity is identified.
- Notice, termination, confidentiality, intellectual property and restrictive terms have been reviewed.
- Required documents and any lawful background checks are understood.

Verification and decision

- The offer is confirmed through a verified employer channel.
- There is no unexplained payment request or pressure to surrender original documents.
- Questions and requested changes have been clarified before acceptance.
- The acceptance deadline and process are recorded.

Key takeaways

- Read the full written terms, not just the headline salary.
- Ask for clarification before accepting.
- Seek qualified advice for significant legal or contractual concerns.

Important: This is general career-development information, not a guarantee of employment or a substitute for employer-specific instructions or qualified legal advice. Verify role-specific and location-specific requirements independently.
